Our people offer a genuinely different experience of a law firm. As well as being thoroughly professional, they are human beings who are approachable, engaging, friendly and fun to work with.

- We reward teamwork, not politics
- Our people enjoy working together and go out of their way to support their colleagues
- Our practice groups work as national teams, sharing knowledge and opportunities
- Supervisors and colleagues give credit where it belongs
- Teams enjoy working and playing together
- We take practicing the law seriously, but not ourselves
